MEMORIAL ARCH.

THE SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL ARCH.

CONCORD'S TRIBUTE TO HER FALLEN HEROS.

The soldiers' monument was dedicated July 4, 1892. A beautiful memorial arch of undecaying granite, erected by the willing contributions of a grateful people, has been formally devoted to the memory of the men who fought the battles of the Union and died that the Union might be perpetuated. Surrounded by the bright colors symbolizing our nationality, amid the strains of martial music, by the voice of prayer and the tongue of eloquence, with solemn ritual and in the presence of surviving comrades in arms, the monumental structure has been made sacred for all coming time. Hereafter it will stand a reminder to the old of the days of strife, and an inspiration to the young to fidelity and patriotism.

The dedication could not have taken place on a more appropriate or more auspicious day. Ushered in with the sounds of exploding powder and ringing bells, it was a day of special significance wherever the stars and stripes were floated, and eminently fitted for remembering and honoring the deeds of American soldiers and sailors. Nor was anything lacking so far as the weather was concerned; the copious rain which fell on the evening previous was followed by clearing skies and cooling breezes, which made a perfect summer day, and from first to last there was nothing to interrupt the order of the exercises, which was carried out as arranged many days before. The city's hospitality was found ample for the guests, who included men of eminent distinction, besides many of those veterans of the army who survive, and who desired to have a part in dedicating this memorial of their fallen comrades.

HISTORY OF THE ARCH.

The erection of the soldiers' memorial arch was the culmination of a plan which had long been forming. For many years the question of building a monument to the soldiers and sailors of Concord had been discussed, and finally the city council, as well as the surviving comrades, decided that the time had come when such a monument should be built. Accordingly, on the 13th day of January, 1891, the council passed the following ordinance:

SECTION 1. That a sum not to exceed $20,000 be and hereby is appropriated for a soldiers' monument or memorial, to commemorate the patriotism of the men of Concord who served their country on land or sea, in the several wars, to establish, defend, and maintain the unity of the republic.

SEC. 2. Such monument or memorial shall be located in White's park, or in front of the city hall, or in some other suitable place.

SEC. 3. The mayor and two members of each branch of the city council, whose terms of office begin on the fourth Tuesday of January, 1891, together with three citizen taxpayers, to be severally hereafter appointed by the mayor, and three veteran soldiers, to be selected by the Grand Army posts of the city, shall be a committee, of which the mayor shall be chairman, to carry into effect the purpose of this ordinance; and such committee shall have full power to determine the site, procure and agree upon plans, accept proposals, and sign contracts for the construction and erection, and make all necessary arrangements for the appropriate dedication of such monument or memorial upon completion.

When the legislature convened, in the same month, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened: That the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the council, and under such rules and regulations as they may prescribe, may grant the privilege to the city of Concord to erect, at its own expense, at the central front entrance to the State House park in said city, a suitable memorial arch to the Union soldiers and sailors of the War of the Rebellion, at a cost of not less than $20,000: provided, however, that the designs and plans for said arch shall first be approved by the governor and council.

This was approved by the governor April 10, 1891.

The ordinance provided further for the appointment of a committee of members of the city government, citizens, and veteran soldiers, which should have "full power to determine the site, procure and agree upon plans, accept proposals, and sign contracts for the construction, and make all necessary arrangements for the appropriate dedication of such monument or memorial upon its completion."

This building committee was appointed April 21, 1891, and was constituted as follows: Mayor Henry W. Clapp; Aldermen G. B. Johnson, Henry McFarland, W. J. Fernald; Councilmen John H. Couch, Leonard W. Bean, F. E. Cloudman; and Messrs. Giles Wheeler, P. B. Cogswell, Henry W. Stevens, John C. Linehan, James K. Ewer, and H. H. Farnum. Six members of this committee saw service in the Union army during the War of the Rebellion.

At a meeting of the building committee, held on May 5, 1891, Messrs. Giles Wheeler, John C. Linehan, Henry McFarland, G. B. Johnson, and P. B. Cogswell were appointed a committee to agree upon a design.

Considering the geographical features of the city, and with a desire to reach the best possible result, the committee deemed it wise to consult Mr. Frederick Law Olmstead, the eminent landscape architect, in regard to both the site and the design. Mr. Olmstead visited all the sites proposed, and advised the building of an arch at the main gateway of the State House park, a situation which had been favorably considered by the committee. Permission to build an arch at the central front gateway had been granted by the state legislature, as above, by a joint resolution, approved April 10, 1891.

The whole State House park was given to the state by citizens of Concord in 1816, also all the stone used in the construction of the building. In 1865 the city of Concord bore the expense of rebuilding the state house and improvements to the square, at a cost of $175,000.

On the 6th of October, 1891, a design for the arch, submitted by Messrs. Peabody & Stearns of Boston, was accepted, and on December 26, 1891, a contract was made with Messrs. Ola Anderson, John Swenson, and L. O. Barker of Concord, for the building of the monument, the material to be Concord granite.

There were present Messrs. Clapp, Cogswell, Wheeler, Linehan, Ewer, McFarland, Bean, Farnum, Johnson, and Stevens.

Expressions of opinion were given by various members of the committee with regard to the modified plan presented by Messrs. Peabody & Stearns.

The following resolution offered by Mr. Cogswell was, upon motion of Col. Linehan, unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the committee accept as a design for a soldiers' memorial monument, to be erected by the city of Concord in front of the State House park, the modified sketch submitted by Messrs. On motion of Col. Linehan, it was voted that the mayor appoint two committees—one for the purpose of writing an appropriate inscription for the monument, the other to collect the names to be inscribed upon the monument.

Mr. Wheeler was authorized to communicate to Mr. Peabody, at his earliest convenience the action of the committee.

Mr. Cogswell was authorized to correspond with Mr. Mead concerning bas-reliefs, and obtain any further desirable information from him.

On motion, voted to adjourn.

P. B. COGSWELL, Clerk pro tem.

Meeting of the committee held at the mayor's office at 7 : 30 o'clock p. m. on November 28, 1891.

The plans of Peabody & Stearns were examined, and the matter of securing bids from contractors for the construction of the monument was discussed by the committee.

Correspondence between Mr. Wheeler and Peabody & Stearns, and the specifications and contract for building, were read over and discussed.

On motion of Mr. Wheeler, it was voted that in the section of the specification referring to the "backing" of the stone work, the word "stone" be stricken out, so that the section shall provide for a "backing" of brick and cement only.

On motion of Mr. Ewer, it was voted that the committee publish an invitation containing conditions for bids for construction of the arch in the Concord daily newspapers, stating when and where the plans can be seen, and limiting the time within which bids will be received.
