REPORT OF TREE WARDEN.

To the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: In submitting a report of the work of the tree warden for the year of 1922 I can only say that as in other years the greater part of the appropriation was expended in caring for the gypsy moths. There were but few brown-tail moths, those being mostly on fruit trees on private property, and there were no elm tree beetles.

After removing the dangerous trees and the poplars where they have caused trouble with the sewers there is but a small part of the appropriation left, which makes it impossible to do anything in the way of planting new trees. So many have been removed in the last few years that the beauty of the streets in many places will be spoiled if something is not done to replace them. I would recommend that more money be appropriated so that some new trees could be set out.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED CLARK,

Tree Warden.

REPORT OF CITY SEALER.

COVERING THE PERIOD FEBRUARY 1, 1922, TO JANUARY 1, 1923.

To His Honor, Henry E. Chamberlin, Mayor, and the Board of Aldermen:

Three prosecutions have been made during the past year: one for short weight on bread, one for short measure on berries, and one for short weight on hams. In each instance the offender was found guilty and fined.

Three hundred and ninety-two (392) scales were tested and sealed; six (6) scales were confiscated and fourteen (14) condemned for repairs, which were later reinspected and sealed. Two hundred and twenty-eight (228) weights were tested and sealed; forty-nine (49) wood carts were measured and marked; eighteen (18) reweighings of coal were made, and your sealer has estimated also seven coal bins. Twenty-six (26) five-gallon cans were tested and sealed; two hundred and eight (208) packages containing beans, potatoes, sugar, etc., were reweighed; one hundred and twenty-four (124) tests of automatic pumps were made, four (4) of which were condemned for repairs and one completely condemned. All liquid and dry measures were found correct.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED S. PENDLETON,

City Sealer.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Board of Mayor and Aldermen:

Following is the report of the Board of Health for the year ending December 31, 1922:

Mayor Henry E. Chamberlin was ex-officio chairman, Dr. Charles H. Cook was ex-officio secretary and Dr. Sibley G. Morrill was the third member of the body. Meetings were held from time to time throughout the year whenever such meetings were deemed necessary or advisable. In the absence of any great emergencies, such as a severe epidemic of any of the great contagious diseases, such meetings have not seemed to be needed as frequently as formerly, all matters of a routine nature and most of the minor emergencies being handled by the sanitary officer and his assistant. This centralization of authority, so far as is practicable, is felt to be a step in the right direction as it makes for more prompt and efficient service.

For a detailed account of the work of the sanitary office you are referred to the report of the sanitary officer, which is hereby transmitted and made a part of this report. In this report you will note that Mr. Palmer calls attention to the fact that the city has no detention hospital for the proper segregation and care of such cases of smallpox as the health officials may be called upon to handle at any time. It is true that we have been fortunately free from this disease for some years past. This immunity is quite unlikely to be anything like a permanent one, and as already indicated is largely fortuitous. There are, at the present time, many cases of smallpox scattered throughout the United States as well as in foreign countries. Furthermore, the incidence of the disease seems to be increasing, and it also seems to be increasing in virulence with a correspondingly enhanced mortality.

With the above in mind, together with the facts concerning the increasing facility of intercommunication afforded by our modern methods of travel, it seems almost inevitable that cases of this kind will be encountered sooner or later. Thus it would seem to be the part of wisdom to settle upon some course of action in advance of its necessity.

As stated in several previous reports of this board, we are of the opinion that it ought to be possible to effect some arrangement with the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital, looking toward the solution of this problem as well as other problems with respect to the care of contagious diseases, that are confronting the community.

This board feels that there can be no reasonable doubt about the value of vaccination as a preventative measure against smallpox. We believe that it is our best, and for that matter, at present, our only safeguard against this dreadful scourge of humanity. In spite of a considerable amount of propaganda favoring the abolition of compulsory vaccination we believe that the majority of our thoughtful, intelligent and informed people are impressed with the logic of the case for vaccination and are thus favorably disposed toward this measure irrespective of the law. As for the others who constitute "the anti's" it may very well be conceded that a campaign of education is in order for their benefit and enlightenment. It is conceivable that they may easily be led where it would be found very difficult to drive them.

In any case, whatever may be the course of events, legislative, judicial or educational, it should be borne in mind by the individual that in recent successful vaccination he has a means of acquiring practically certain immunity from this malady.

In this connection, as tending to show how a firm of insurance underwriters, well known throughout the civilized world, views this matter, may be mentioned the fact that Lloyd's of London has been insuring against death from smallpox due to the prevalence of that disease throughout the British Isles. The premium charged unvaccinated persons being twice that charged those who have been vaccinated. This differential applies to all vaccinated persons irrespective of the time that may have elapsed since the operation was performed. In case it should have been found feasible to establish a rate for those who had been very recently vaccinated there would doubtless have been a much greater difference in the premiums charged.

Thus it will be seen that the propaganda for the abolition of vaccination, which may be said to have had its inception and headquarters in England, has thus far failed to shake the faith of this association of underwriters whose policies, we may safely assume, are determined by hard-headed business men and not by moon-eyed sentimentalists or designing charlatans.

It is an indubitable fact that no responsible medical man has any doubt as to the protection afforded against smallpox by vaccination. With such a ready means at hand for preventing the spread of the disease it would hardly seem to be justifiable to expend large sums of money in providing a building or buildings to be used solely for a detention hospital for this disease. We believe that some way ought to be worked out that would permit the use of the present Foster Ward in case of an emergency. It is thought that this could be done with entire safety and to the advantage of all concerned.

Our city has a pure and abundant water supply, well paved and clean streets, an efficient sewage disposal system, fine parks and playgrounds, comfortable and sanitary schoolhouses, a supply of pure milk thoroughly inspected as to its sources, as well as many other favoring factors which contribute a share toward our general welfare from the public health point of view. As a recent addition to this ever-growing list of such factors should be mentioned the collection of table refuse under the auspices of the sanitary office. We think that this is a forward step and one that is justified, notwithstanding the not inconsiderable expense involved in the undertaking.

In conclusion it may not be thought out of place to call your attention to the fact that the maintenance of this office with its manifold activities has cost the people of Concord less than twenty cents per capita for the entire year. We believe that no thoughtful person will consider this trifling sum too much to contribute toward maintaining such an undeniably fruitful form of public service.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY E. CHAMBERLIN, Mayor,
CHARLES H. COOK,
SIBLEY G. MORRILL.

Board of Health.

REPORT OF THE SANITARY OFFICER.

To the Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN: The annual report of the sanitary officer for the year ending December 31, 1922, is herewith submitted.

The deaths for the past year were 481, which is 49 more than in 1921, arteriosclerosis claiming 49, the largest number from any one cause. Estimating the population at 23,000 and excluding the non-resident deaths, 192, and the stillbirths, 14, the yearly death rate for Concord was 11.95 per cent. There were 255 deaths at the six public institutions and 226 in the nine wards of the city.

None of the contagious diseases have been epidemic in Concord, but scarlet fever has again been prevalent during the entire year. We have been fortunate in having had only forty-one cases with no deaths, which is thirteen less than in 1921. There were eleven cases of diphtheria with one death, one hundred and one cases of measles, thirty-seven cases of tuberculosis with twenty-seven deaths. Twenty-three of the thirty-seven cases of tuberculosis were from the State Hospital. There were also reported eighty-two cases of venereal disease.

The price of live-weight hogs continued to remain at such a low figure that nearly all of the licensed garbage men gave up the collection of table garbage early in the season. Complaints came pouring into this office that households were unable to dispose of their garbage and it became a general nuisance. As the situation became more acute it was voted at the May meeting of the Board of Public Works to call for bids for the collection of table garbage, and the contract was awarded to John A. Cochran, thereby adding a new department to the Board of Health. The first collection started with a list of one hundred names, and has gradually increased until seventeen hundred families were being taken care of at the end of the year. Two collections per week were made during the summer and one collection in winter. There was some difficulty in getting started, but the men in charge are faithful and competent, and the work is being efficiently handled at present. The board had supposed it would be a simple matter to make the winter collections, but the extremely deep snow has proved a great handicap, which necessitated the putting on of two-horse teams with two men to a team, thereby increasing the cost of the weekly collection during the winter to nearly double the cost of two collections per week in summer, for the same number of families. This branch of our work is increasing daily and no doubt the demands will be much greater as the warm weather approaches, but I feel that we have taken care of a serious nuisance in establishing this department.

It again becomes necessary, as it has for the past three years, for me to call the attention of the public to the fact that no definite steps have been taken regarding an isolation hospital. Concord has been extremely fortunate in not having had a case of smallpox, but should an epidemic break out of such intensity as the city of Denver and many cities has had, the Board of Health would be absolutely unable to cope with the situation. From September 1 to December 1, 1922, there were 444 cases of smallpox in Denver, with a total of 140 deaths. Because we have been free from smallpox is no sign that we must not be prepared to take care of it should there be an outbreak of this dreaded disease, and I sincerely hope some place will be provided during the coming year.

It is also interesting to note at this time, notwithstanding the propaganda against vaccination, issued by the so-called Medical Liberty League, advising people to resist vaccination, that of the total of 444 cases, 359 victims were not vaccinated, and of the 140 total deaths, 130 had never been vaccinated. The morbidity and mortality of school children was exceedingly small as vaccination was compulsory and was strictly enforced. I know of no better argument for vaccination, in which I firmly believe, than the above statement of facts.

During the year I submitted sixty-nine samples of milk to the State Laboratory for examination, and it is very gratifying that all but four samples of the total number submitted were up to or above the minimum required standard, which is a much higher average than in former years. Of the forty-one milk farms inspected, twenty-two were in good condition, seventeen were fairly good and two were in poor condition. The owners were requested to clean up the barns at once and make the necessary improvements required by law, which was done.

There have been the usual number of complaints and nuisances to be inspected and disposed of. These came largely from dead animals, odors from pigs, stables, rubbish, unsanitary plumbing, refuse in yards and general conditions of premises. The weekly inspection of alleyways in the rear of the business blocks has avoided any accumulation of rubbish.

While there has not been as much construction in the city, it is being resumed gradually, and 217 plumbing inspections were made this year compared with the 135 of 1921. I inspected forty-two sewer connections up to November 13, at which time the Board of Aldermen voted to amend the city ordinance and give the inspection of sewers to the city engineer. By having all the records in charge of the Engineering Department, the public will be served much more efficiently than under the former arrangement, when it was necessary to consult plans in one department and records in another.

Regular inspection of the shores of Penacook Lake, which furnishes the water supply for the city, has shown it to be in excellent condition. Analysis of the water also shows it to be of the usual fine quality.

The appropriation for the year was $5,000 and the total expenditures were $4,288.49, leaving a balance of $711.51. This balance was due to the fact that we had very little contagious disease that needed financial assistance, which is very unusual, as this appropriation was overdrawn in 1921. One hundred and sixty-nine dollars was received from milk license fees.

The following tables show in detail the work of the department:

REPORT OF BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF PLUMBERS.

CONCORD, N. H., December 31, 1922.

To the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: The twenty-third annual report of this board is herewith submitted.

The membership of the present board is as follows: Wilfred W. Brennan, a licensed journeyman plumber, Charles H. Cook, M.D., and Fred W. Lang, city engineer. Mr. Brennan is chairman of the board and Fred W. Lang, clerk.

Two applications for master's licenses were received, and one application for journeyman's plumber license.

Three meetings were held, the applicants examined and the two master applicants passed the required examination and licenses were issued to them.

The applicant for journeyman's license failed to pass the examination and was denied a license.

There are four classes of plumbers on the register: Registered Master; Examined Master; Registered Journeyman; and Examined Journeyman.

The following paid for their 1922 license, and are classified as follows:

REGISTERED MASTERS.

REPORT OF THE CITY SOLICITOR.

CONCORD, N. H., January 5, 1923.

To his Honor the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: I beg to submit herewith my annual report of the legal matters in which the city of Concord was interested during the past year.

John J. McLaughlin v. City of Concord is an action brought against the Concord Water Works for damages for injuries, claimed to have been received by falling into a hole at the new Patriot Building while a sprinkler system was being installed by the Water Works in the new building.

Joseph E. Normandeau v. City of Concord (1) is an appeal from an award made to Mr. Normandeau by the Board of Aldermen for land taken to be used in the construction of the new road known as the "Soucook Cut-off." This appeal is now pending in the Superior Court.

Joseph E. Normandeau v. City of Concord (2) is a claim against the city for damages to a truck and contents owned by the plaintiff which went through the Clough's Mills Bridge so called. This bridge lies partly in Concord and partly in Pembroke and is now a joint bridge. A similar claim has been filed against the town of Pembroke.

Percy Ploude v. City of Concord is a claim for personal injuries alleged to have happened in connection with the above accident at Clough's Mills Bridge. The plaintiff was an employee of Mr. Normandeau and driving a truck at the time of the accident.

Isreal Smith v. City of Concord is a suit for injury alleged to have occurred to a horse while being driven on the Loudon Road, and was settled out of court by a payment to the plaintiff of twenty-five ($25) dollars.

The case of Mae E. Cragg and Thomas W. Cragg v.

Herbert Sargent, Boston & Maine Railroad and the City of Concord, we settled by the payment of $5,750, of which sum the city of Concord contributed seven hundred ($700) dollars as its share.

Charles Elgand v. City of Concord is a claim for damages presented by Mr. Elgand, who alleges that his property was damaged because of a defective culvert adjoining his premises. This case is in order for trial at the present term of United States Court at Concord.

At the beginning of the year I started a custom of reporting all accidents involving any of the employees of the city, and also any accidents which might happen upon highways and which were, or might be attributed to defective condition of highways, reports thereof being made immediately. With the assistance of the Police Department, the city engineer and the superintendent of streets, a complete investigation of such accidents and all the connecting circumstances has been made immediately, and it occurs to me that this practice has in many instances saved the city from the trouble of defending claims which were groundless. It is my recommendation that this matter be given more attention, because in my opinion, an immediate and complete investigation of these accidents is very necessary to adequately protect the rights of the city.

I wish to thank the Mayor, Board of Aldermen and the heads of the different departments for their kind coöperation and courtesies extended to me during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

J. JOSEPH DOHERTY.
