

REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON SEWERS AND DRAINS.

To the City Council :

The doings of this committee for the past year include the disbursement of $2,372.08, an itemized account of which will be found under the head of "Sewers," in its appropriate place among the general expenditures.

This sum has been used in laying about 1,700 feet in length of sewers, at such places as seemed demanded for the public good. The first piece constructed was of Akron pipe, 12 inches in diameter, and extended from the connection with the main sewer on North Main street, westerly through Franklin street, nearly to North State street, a distance of 438 feet.

On North State street about 280 feet of 10-inch pipe was laid from the School street sewer, north, which was completed before the macadamizing of State street at that point. This piece, although much needed in the spring-time, could perhaps have been put off another year, but it was thought better to avoid disturbing the macadamized street, by constructing the sewer before the street was repaired.

On Grove street, north from Laurel street, an 8-inch pipe was laid for a distance of 180 feet, for the accommodation of residents in that vicinity, and on Perkins street an extension of 128 feet of 8-inch pipe was laid westerly, its termination being now near Rumford street. Some 200 feet of 10-inch pipe has also been laid from the Free Bridge road to connect with the railroad sewer, for the purpose of providing sewer accommodations for the block of brick buildings erected by Samuel H. Dow, and also to provide for the surface water from the Free Bridge road.

The most expensive piece of work undertaken during the year was that rendered necessary by the contemplated erection of the new depot in Railroad square.

The land in Railroad square has remained the property of the Concord Railroad, although permission has always been freely given for its use by the city in the construction of sewers; but the location decided upon for the depot was directly over the brick sewer leading from Freight street to the river, and necessitated the re-laying of that sewer from Freight street around the south end of the cellar, and connecting with the old sewer near the south end of the platform of the existing depot.

This was a work of great difficulty, owing to the character of the soil, which was composed of clay, hardpan, and quicksand at different points, in all of which underground springs were plentiful. It was completed successfully, making 300 feet in length of new brick sewer, three feet in diameter. A similar change was required in the location of the pipe sewer running south from Depot street, as it also passed through the proposed depot cellar. This was accomplished by laying 150 feet of new 18-inch pipe, and re-laying 193 feet of the old pipe taken up for the purpose, the outlet being into the brick sewer above mentioned. In addition to the above, a new 10-inch pipe was laid from the foot of Railroad street, a distance of 121 feet, and entering the 18-inch pipe, to take the surface-water from Railroad street, which had formerly passed through an old stone sewer, removed in the excavation of the depot cellar.

Some complaint has been made by the residents along the line of the existing sewer on Warren street, because of the liability of back-flooding cellars, etc., in case of sudden heavy showers.

It is thought that individuals may be able to guard against any further difficulty from this cause, by providing suitable guard-traps for preventing back-flow, near their connections with the main sewer; and it is suggested by some that an additional outlet from the Main street sewer near Depot street into Merrimack river would relieve the back-pressure, and possibly remove the necessity for any other action on this account, and such an outlet would doubtless prove of general advantage.

The system of sewers now in use seems well adapted to the wants of the citizens, and can be supported without extraordinary outlay in the immediate future, except for such extensions as the natural growth of the city may seem to require.

EDGAR H. WOODMAN,
EDWARD DOW,
EMORY N. SHEPARD,

Committee on Sewers.

REPORT

SUPERINTENDENT OF PENACOOK PARK.

To the City Council:

The undersigned reports that he assumed the duties of his position immediately after his election in April last, and has endeavored to perform those duties in such manner as would best subserve the interests of the city.

In company with the Committee on Streets and Commons, he made careful examination of the buildings and appurtenances of the park, and, under their direction, has made such expenditures as were required for its proper care and maintenance for the purpose for which it was designed. The buildings were comparatively new, but unpainted: it was necessary to their proper preservation that they should be painted in a thorough manner, which has been done, including the roofs.

The piazza in connection with the pavilion has been extended around the orchestra stand, so that it is now available for a continuous promenade by visitors. The space under the pavilion has been neatly enclosed by lattice-work, a strong rail placed around the highest points of the piazza and at the sides of the stairways, so as to prevent accident, and the steps leading to the pavilion have been widened and extended around all sides, except those guarded by the rail.

An addition to the restaurant building has been erected to provide accommodation for individuals or parties desiring to lunch at the park, the interior of the restaurant has been finished to make a more respectable appearance, and a hitchingrail has been put up about the easterly and northerly entrances to the park to furnish facilities for hitching horses without danger of girdling the trees. Awnings have also been provided for the north and west sides of the pavilion, and have been found exceedingly advantageous, not only for shade, but for protection in case of sudden showers.

The superintendent has received from private parties, for the use of the pavilion, the sum of $30, and for surplus shingles sold $1.50, all of which has been paid to the treasurer.

The superintendent has expended the sum of $414.68 in connection with his office, the items of which will be found in their appropriate place in the detailed expenditures of the city. The total expenses for this year, as shown under the expenditures for "Penacook park," aggregate $635.64, but it will be noticed that $108.32 of this sum was paid as part of the expenses of 1882, being the balance due the superintendent of last year, $58.32, and the superintendent's salary of last year, $50.

A reasonable sum can be judiciously expended in clearing and evening the grounds, and it has been suggested that it would be an improvement to make a more extended clearing of the underbrush.

The park and adjacent grounds have been patronized by a large number of visitors during the past year, and its advantages have evidently been fully appreciated.

O. F. RICHARDSON,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE CITY SOLICITOR.

To the City Council :

At the April term, 1883, of the supreme court, the bill against John B. Giles was marked "neither party," Giles paying the costs, and the city leasing the land occupied by the projection of the corner of an elevated kitchen over the kit factory road, for a nominal rent.

The suit of Lydia W. Clough v. Concord, in which damages to the amount of $3,000 was claimed, has been settled by the city's paying $284 in full for damages and costs.

The suit of William K. Norton v. Concord, in which damages to the amount of $1,000 were claimed, has been settled by the city's paying $197.50 in full for damages and costs.

In the "Knibbs patent" suit, I have already explained that the five cities of New Hampshire had formed a combination for a common defence. The suit of Norton & a. v. Dover was tried in Portsmouth, in June, 1883, before a jury. The trial lasted sixteen days, and resulted in a verdict for the defendants. As a consequence of the above trial, the suit of Marcus P. Norton, Trustee and Assignee in trust, & a. v. Concord has been non-suited, and a full release given by the owners of the "Knibbs patent" to the city.

As a full report of the receipts and expenditures in the trial would occupy too much space in this report, I will give only a few of the items. The whole amount collected of the five cities interested in this trial was $22,500, and of this sum Concord paid $2,857.14, or a little less than one eighth of the whole amount. The bills are not all in at the present time, but the indications are that when all have been settled there will be a small sum to pay back to the cities, so that the figures given above will not be absolutely correct as to the net expenses of the defence. The defence was expensive, as you will judge by the above figures, but we had our choice either to contest the suits, as we did, for all they were worth, and pay the bills, or accede to the exorbitant demands of the owners of the patent. We chose the former alternative, and the result, I think, shows that we made no mistake.

March 5, 1883, John P. Engel, of West Concord, sued the city for $40.53, as he alleges, "for services and labor and use of team upon the highway from January 9, 1881, to February 3, 1881, inclusive." The case was entered in court at the April term, and was referred to Joseph Barnard, of Hopkinton, N. H. It has not yet been tried, but will be soon.

June 29, 1883, William Butterfield filed a petition in the supreme court, praying that he might be allowed to file a claim against the city for damages, which he alleges he received by reason of a defect in the highway near the corner of Main street and Free Bridge road. The accident happened, as he alleges, on the 20th day of March, 1883, and he claims to have sustained severe injuries, and fixes the amount of damages at $20,000.

At the October term there was a hearing on the petition before Judge Isaac W. Smith, and he decided that Mr. Butterfield be allowed to file his claim. In this hearing, as in all hearings of this kind, all the facts are not inquired into, and the decision of the court does not turn upon the real merits of the case. The claim was filed, and on the 20th day of December he sued the city, claiming damages to the amount of $20,000. The case will be entered at the April term, 1884.

The suits of Engel, and Butterfield v. Concord, are the only cases now in court in which the city is a party.

ROBT A. RAY, Solicitor.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

Four hundred volumes have been added to the library during the past year. Of these, one hundred and ninety-nine have been placed on the shelves for circulation, and the balance, consisting mainly of congressional and state documents, have been placed with the books of reference.

For the last we are indebted principally to the courtesy of Hon. E. H. Rollins, the state officials, and the Republican Press Association.

A full file of the city, financial, and school reports since the adoption of the city charter in 1853 has been secured and bound for the use of the library, nine bound volumes of the Independent Statesman, being a full file of that paper from October 1, 1873, to October 1, 1883, except for the year ending September 30, 1878, have been received from the proprietors;—also, an imperfect file of the N. H. Statesman from July, 1851, to January 1, 1870, from Joseph B. Walker, Esq.

New cases, furnishing shelf room for 2,500 volumes, have been placed in the library. A card case for the accommodation of a card catalogue has also been procured, and some progress made in preparing the catalogue.

The patrons of the library now number more than eight hundred, a slight increase from last year.

Of this sum there has been paid out during the year $1,476.04, as will appear from the itemized account under the heading of "public library," in the general expenses of the city, leaving a balance in the hands of the treasurer of $407.53, to be carried to the account of 1884.

In addition to the above there has been received for

Interest on Lyon trust fund,	$60.00
